

BE. Be Eco.

Your personal mission.

In life you can be curious, innovative, elegant,
trendy or whatever else you decide to be.
The important thing is to be.
Above all, to be ecological.

DESIGN

DESIGN

Style knows no trends, because it's timeless.

Taking away the unnecessary, in the new BE-A and BE-B charging stations, it becomes pure essence.

Sober lines upon which the look glides satisfying its expectations.

Shapes of steel that seduce the touch to explore its surfaces and linger on its matter.

Details that evolve into an experience of the senses, leaving no interruptions between the memory and the emotion that generated it.

ELEGANCE is not necessarily a gray suit.

Elegance is not necessarily a gray suit.
It's rather the ability to wear unexpected colors without being out of place, whichever it is:
a futuristic metropolis or a city of art.
It's appareling, without showing off, precious accessories such as the large 7" TFT display
It's savouring the innovation of BE-A series, with it's double frontal sockets, and still allowing for traditional choices as the side sockets of the BE-B

Elegance is not the attitude to conform to the context, but to become the context itself.

An impractical
remains a mere exercise.

An impractical design remains a mere exercise.
The new BE-A and BE-B charging stations, on the other hand, are enriched with details that enhance their functionality besides characterizing their design.
Take the sockets with integrated status LEDs and safety shutters as example: they guarantee maximum visibility and ergonomics.
Or the possibility of controlling the charge from your smartphone or tablet. And again remotely managing networks of multiple stations, rationalizing the energy distribution through the Load Balancing function.

So that the choice of alternative mobility is achieved with a natural gesture, just as the principles that inspired it are natural.

IDENTIFICATION MARK

Rediscovering the origins of electric mobility.

That is what choosing Scame means. Embracing an idea of sustainability born 20 years ago and today embodied by the new BE-A and BE-B stations, whose strict lines trace the path to a more technological, connected and sustainable future.

Customize BE-A and BE-B stations with your logo, to make this journey feel like truly yours.
